February Events

Unfortunately the Packers lost in the NFC Championship and won't be playing in the Super Bowl on February 7th. It should still be a great match up between the Kanas City Chiefs and the Tampa Bay Buccaneers, if you're not a football fan or still upset about the Packers not being there, you can still watch for the commercials or the halftime show. This year's halftime performer is The Weeknd whose hits include "Blinding Lights", "The Hills", and "Starboy".

If Football isn't your thing normally February is loaded with award shows and new Television shows. Due to COVID-19 many things have had to be delayed or cancelled. This year the Grammy's and The Academy awards had to be delayed to later this spring. The NBA all-star game isn't happening as of now. The Golden Globes will be airing Sunday, February 28th

A Message From Jay

Hello and welcome to February!

February is the shortest month of the year! We had a fair amount of snow in January, but we have not had a bitter cold stretch this winter. Now that the Packers season has come to an end I will now be focused on Basketball. The Bucks new look team is off to a decent start this year and is still trying to get together as a team. The Badgers Men's basketball team is rated 19th in the country and has a very veteran team led by 5 starting seniors. The Marquette men's basketball team is playing .500 ball and have a very young team in contrast to the Badgers.

I had the opportunity to go to the NFC championship game at Lambeau field on January 24th with my wife Sara and our 2 sons Jake & Zach. It was the 1st live sporting event I have attended since February of 2020. Normally, we would park in someone's yard but there was no tailgating, so we just parked on the street and had a tailgate in our vehicle. We were all excited to get to see the Packers and they did a very good job of spacing us out in the stadium. It was extremely loud for only having about 9,500 fans but it helped that they gave plastic corrugated boards to bang on the aluminum seats in front of us.

It was a disappointing end to the season for the Packers, but I feel very lucky to have gone to my 1st professional sporting event in almost a year. The Pack will be back next season! Stay healthy and warm this month and let's hope we are getting closer to more normalcy in our lives.

Be well,
Jay

Directions

1. Preheat oven to 350 degrees F
2. In a small bowl, mix together brownie mix, 1 egg and water. Spread into the greased pan. Bake for 25 minutes.
3. Melt the caramels with the evaporated milk over low heat in a heavy saucepan. Stir often, and heat until mixture has a smooth consistency. Reserve 1/3 cup of this caramel mixture, and pour the remainder over the warm, baked brownie crust .
4. In a large bowl, beat the cream cheese, sugar and vanilla with an electric mixer until smooth. Add eggs one at a time, beating well after each addition. Pour cream cheese mixture over caramel mixture.
5. Bake cheesecake for 40 minutes. Chill in pan. . Heat reserved caramel mixture, and spoon over cheesecake. Drizzle with the chocolate topping.
