Bucks Playoffs Preview

The NBA playoffs start Saturday, May 22nd. Right now the Bucks are set to be the 3rd seed in the Eastern Conference, behind the Brooklyn Nets and The Philadelphia 76ers. The Bucks have 8 games left in the regular season to try and move up in the standings. Right now they would be slated to play the Celtics in the first round. This past off-season the Bucks made moves to try and improve the roster after a couple years of playoff disappointments. They added Jrue Holiday which has been a big upgrade over Eric Bledsoe. They also acquired P.J Tucker during the season. Those moves bolster the defense tremendously and hope to be the key to pushing the Bucks over the top and reach the Finals. Right now the favorites to win the championship are Nets, Lakers, Clippers, and Bucks in that order. Let's hope the Bucks finish strong in the regular season and make a deep run in the playoffs.

A Message From Jay

Welcome to May!

The weather is starting to warm up a little bit. It was good to put the snowblower and shovels away! With the nicer weather, I am more willing and able to be more active outside too.

I have been playing pickle ball all year long, but now I have been playing outside on the courts at Haupt Strasse Park in Germantown. We usually have 10 to 12 guys show up every Saturday morning and I will play for 2 to 3 hours. It's great exercise and easy to learn.

I have also joined a golf league for the first time in my life and we play every Tuesday late afternoon at, Blackstone Creek Golf Club in Germantown. We had our first practice round this week and the league officially starts on May 4.

I have also gone to a few Brewer games and it's good to see tailgating back! I'm sure my wife Sara and I will get the bikes out soon and also do some kayaking as well.

I'm looking forward to the warmer weather and a great summer ahead. Have a great month of May and let me know if there's anything I can help you with.

Happy Mother's Day to all the Moms out there!

Be well,
Jay
