Strawberry Brownies

- 1 (15.5 ounce) box strawberry cake mix
- 1/2 cup unsalted butter, melted
- 2 large eggs
- 2 teaspoons vanilla extract, divided
- 3 strawberries, chopped
- 1 1/2 cups confectioner's sugar, or more as needed
- 1/4 teaspoon kosher salt

Directions

1. Preheat the oven to 350 degrees F. Lightly grease an 11x7-inch baking dish.
2. Mix cake mix, melted butter, eggs, and 1 teaspoon vanilla extract in a bowl until well combined. Spread mixture into an even layer in the prepared baking dish.
3. Bake in the preheated oven until a toothpick comes out clean when inserted into the center, 16 to 18 minutes. Allow brownies to cool in the pan for about 20 minutes.
4. Meanwhile, puree strawberries and remaining teaspoon of vanilla extract in a food processor or with an immersion blender until smooth.
5. Stir strawberry mixture into confectioner's sugar until smooth, adding extra sugar as necessary to reach the consistency of a glaze. Add salt and stir.
6. Spread strawberry glaze evenly over the cooled brownies and let stand until completely cooled. Cut into 12 squares, or refrigerate until ready to serve.

A Message From Jay

Welcome to May, a little late!

This month I'm going to briefly summarize my trip to Spain with my wife, Sara, at the end of March. We arrived in Madrid, Spain on March 25 and did a walking tour to get an overview of the city. We bought some cookies from the nuns in the monastery at Venta de Dulces. Very unique experience as you had no contact with them and put your money in a drawer and the cookies were sent out to you without seeing anyone. I tried a calamari sandwich, which was delicious, and we had tapas for dinner. The next day, we did a tour of the Royal Palace and walked around Plaza Mayor, which is the central square of Madrid.

We visited Mercado San Anton with all kinds of food vendors and did a tapas/drinks tour in the evening with a lot of great food and drink, including vermouth, which is different than what we have here in the US. The following day, we did a tour of Plaza de Toros Las Ventas, which is the largest bullring in Spain. We visited Almudena Cathedral, which started being constructed in 1883 and was completed in 1993.

On March 28, we took the train to Barcelona Spain and went to Barceloneta Beach, which is the main beach. That evening we went for tapas at Las Alcobas Azul, which was recommended to us by one of my clients who studied abroad in Barcelona. The next day, we did a walking tour and got a lot of history of Barcelona and we went to Park Guell, which is a complex of parks and gardens. It was beautiful!

The following morning we did a tour of Sagrada Familia Basilica, which started being constructed in 1882 and should be completed in 2026. It has been described as the most extraordinary personal interpretation of Gothic architecture since the middle ages. In the afternoon, we went to the Barcelona soccer match vs Girona for their Italian league match. It was at the Olympic Stadium and Barcelona won 4-1! We spent our last day in Barcelona, visiting the cathedral of Barcelona and the Arc de Triump. That evening, we flew to Bari, Italy. Next month, I will share our adventures in Italy!

Happy Mother's Day to all the moms out there!

Be well,
Jay
